Looking to get out of the house for an hour once a month to discuss this really neat book you just read?

The Mount Pleasant Public Library is wondering if you would like to start a new book club just for women?

It is called “Girls’ Night Out” and one evening a month you meet with other women and talk books.

It doesn’t cost any money and you don’t have to agree to be president, secretary or anything else. No food preparation is necessary and there are no children or men to interrupt

If this sounds good to you contact Gayle at the library by e-mail directormpppl@iowatelecom.net, phone (385-1490) or stop in by 5 pm August 4th. You will be able to help choose the night, time and how you want to proceed.
